Subject: GTA XML API - Changes To The Area Files

Dear client,

those of you who are already using our area files will have noticed during the mapping process that there are some duplicates within the file. We have now reviewed the entire file and decided to remove 401 area codes which means that just over 600 codes will remain.

Attached you will find a spread sheet that list all codes that will be removed and which gives alternative codes to be used by you for the majority of them. We are already in the process of removing these from our demo system and intend to also remove them from our production system during the first week of June 2009.

On the second spread sheet you will find a list of all remaining area codes and their descriptions as well as the cities contained within the areas, broken down by geographical regions.

For those of you who are currently not using the GTA area codes I have also attached a document giving some general information about the benefits of using these codes.
